Overview

Alfredo Gonzalez has more than four decades of experience in real estate, international transactions, land use, government, healthcare, environmental and aviation law. He represents clients in land use, procurement and environmental issues before governmental entities in South Florida and across the State of Florida.

Recognized among Florida Trend magazine's "Legal Elite," Alfredo is skilled in advocating client positions before such governmental agencies as the Florida Department of Environmental Protection, Florida Legislature, Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, Federal Trade Commission, Florida Housing Finance Authority and various local municipalities. He delivers substantial acumen in representing receivers in the disposition of assets.

Alfredo has negotiated, documented, and closed major commercial and residential transactions, as well as represented banks, negotiated complex leases and prepared condominium documentation. He is counsel to an array of investors, developers, banks, healthcare providers, mortgage companies and large corporate clients. With veteran and honed experience in contract negotiations with governmental agencies, Alfredo has handled major public contracts in aviation, water and sewer, healthcare, waste disposal, environmental, transportation, construction, energy performance, Port of Miami and other governmental entities.

Notably, Alfredo is a licensed real estate broker and a past board member of the Miami-Dade Expressway Authority (MDX). He is involved in the American Bar Association, The Florida Bar, the Dade County Bar Association and the Cuban American Bar Association. A past member of the Board of Directors of the Realtor Association of Miami-Dade and the Beaches, Alfredo was a trustee to the Greater Miami Chamber of Commerce and participated in a Blue Ribbon Committee that drafted recommendations to improve the City of Miami Building and Zoning Code.

Alfredo is dedicated to providing his clients the legal counsel they need to succeed and is committed to delivering immediate responsiveness to their specific needs. Having practiced law for many decades, Alfredo knows how to focus on realizing the right result by establishing synergy among matter constituents, identifying potential leverage throughout the negotiation process, and working diligently with government and other agencies that impact whether or not his client's objectives can be realized.

Prior to joining the firm, Alfredo served as the chief executive officer of a large South Florida-based law firm and past head of the Real Estate and Governmental practice groups.
