Overview

Jeff Jonasen has, for more than two decades, advised and counseled business owners, executives and boards of directors concerning their business and commercial transactions, their financings and acquisitions, their corporate governance responsibilities, and their other legal and regulatory obligations. His objective is to assist clients in achieving their goals and to help them avoid obstacles to success.

Jeff is a shareholder who joined the firm in 2013, and he focuses his practice on corporate representation, licensing and distribution, mergers and acquisitions, venture capital, and corporate finance and securities. Jeff's experience includes handling joint ventures, securities offerings, and other domestic and international business transactions, as well as in representing investors, start-ups, non-profit entities, benefit corporations, medium sized businesses, and Fortune 500 companies.

He has represented a wide variety of clients in many different types of businesses, including overseas agricultural operations, international industrial equipment manufacturers, local medical practices, restaurant franchisees, private equity investors and funds, start-up technology companies, chambers of commerce, consulting firms, health care-related entities, investment advisors, and many others. Jeff is an “AV” rated lawyer by Martindale-Hubbell and has been recognized by The Best Lawyers in America® for corporate law.

A sixth-generation Central Floridian, Jeff has deep roots in the community and serves on numerous philanthropic, civic, and community boards. He has played critical roles in establishing and leading regional business advocacy and economic development organizations and initiatives. Business leaders and government officials seek his counsel and support in advancing a community agenda.
