Overview

Michael Secco brings over a decade of experience in working with large internal technology projects and integrations, coordinating strategic eDiscovery plans, and administering managing systems to set up new intakes and automated procedures. He supports case teams in both federal and state matters, as well as coordinated proceedings across the country. Over the years, Michael has managed teams with paralegals, discovery specialists and reviewing attorneys. Throughout the litigation process, he ensures the client's needs always remain front and center.

Prior to joining Gunster, Michael worked at a global law firm located in Chicago, Illinois, handling marketing legal issues, acting as senior paralegal on mass tort cases, and collaborating with professionals on various matters in trials and hearings throughout the United States.
